Program Overview

A. Program Description

The Camp Belknap Fellowship Program is a unique 15-month stipend program designed to provide students and young professionals with opportunities to develop their leadership skills through an enhanced Belknap experience. Any person 18 years or older can participate. The Fellowship Program curriculum focuses on leadership development, youth development, environmental stewardship, and cultural immersion with Fellows receiving personal Spanish language instruction and the opportunity to travel to Chile. Fellows will work onsite at Camp Belknap in Tuftonboro, NH for two summers, a spring, and a fall season, with housing and food provided. From December through March, during the traditional Belknap offseason, Fellows will travel to Chile to participate in a cultural exchange structured around several volunteer experiences.

During the fall and spring at Belknap, Fellows will support the takedown and setup of camp while leading a variety of auxiliary programs. In the summer, Fellows will manage key programs, leading our efforts to compost, garden, monitor water quality, and reduce our carbon footprint, in addition to leading traditional programs like sailing and archery.

In Chile, Fellows will hone their leadership skills by working in youth development and environmental stewardship roles in a Spanish-speaking setting. Fellows will work on an organic farm serving an ecotourism destination, at a bilingual day camp, and in a classroom environment at a local private school. Throughout the trip there are countless opportunities to explore the natural beauty of the Chilean outdoors.

B. Program Pillars and Goals

D. Stipend and Financial Support

The Fellowship Program is designed to provide Fellows with professional development opportunities and the travel experience of a lifetime. During their time at Belknap, Fellows will be housed onsite with three meals a day or a food stipend provided. While traveling in Chile, Fellows will be provided housing and some meals through partner organizations and homestays. Camp Belknap will cover the cost of roundtrip airfare to Chile, travel insurance, and travel expenses to and from our partner organization locations. In addition, Fellows will receive a stipend every two weeks for the duration of the program. The stipend is for personal use and intended to supplement the cost of food, fuel, tolls, and other personal travel expenses and experiences.

In addition to the stipend, Fellows may be able to apply for a Leadership Educational Assistance Fund (LEAF) Grant through Camp Belknap to provide additional financial support to offset costs of tuition debt or future tuition payments. Please call or email us directly to discuss these options.

E. Frequently Asked Questions

When does the application open?

Fellows are selected through a rolling enrollment process, and the application is always open. When positions for the upcoming term are filled, remaining successful candidates will be deferred to the following year's cohort.

When is the application deadline?

We will review applications on a rolling system, admitting qualified applicants on a first-come, first-served basis until the limited positions are filled.

Can I work as a cabin leader during the summer and then join the Fellowship Program in the fall?

Yes. If you are already on staff for the summer and are interested in the Fellowship Program, please complete an application and indicate your connection to Belknap on the form.

Can women apply?

Yes. The program is open to any person 18 years or older.

What is the typical age range for a fellow?

Any person 18 years or older can apply for the program and there is no specified age range for the role. The program is designed for any student or young professional interested in leadership development.

Does Camp Belknap staff travel with Fellows?

No. Camp Belknap's Program Director will travel to and from Chile to support various sections of the program, but for most of the travel experience, Fellows will travel alone or with their fellow cohort.

Who do Fellows report to?

Fellows report to Camp Belknap's Program Director. Fellows will have regular check-in meetings to review goals and feedback with the Program Director throughout the program.

How much time off do I have and when?

Throughout the 15-month program, there are a few vacation periods. While in the U.S., Fellows will have the last two weeks of November and the first two weeks of April off. Like all summer staff, Fellows will work six days a week during the summer months. During Belknap's fall programming season, Fellows will work five days a week. In addition, there will be three other four to five-day breaks coordinated based on spring and fall programming.

While living at Belknap outside the summer season, there is flexibility to request additional time off for personal needs, appointments, and trips home. The Program Director will work with Fellows to accommodate these requests around camp's programming needs.

Finally, Fellows will also have most of the month of February off when traveling in Chile.

Can friends and family visit me at camp?

Yes. Fellows are welcome to have visitors at camp. Fellows must coordinate visits in advance with the Program Director to plan around camp's schedule and programming.

Will I have time to travel outside the program in Chile?

Yes. There are several weeks in February when Fellows will have time to travel.

Can I travel back to the U.S. while in Chile?

No. Camp Belknap only supplements the cost of one round-trip plane ticket per fellow.

Do I need to buy insurance for being abroad?

No. Camp Belknap will cover the cost of travel insurance. Here is our travel insurance provider: https://dan.org/membership-insurance/travel-insurance/annual-travel-insurance/.

What happens if I get injured?

If a fellow gets sick or injured, they will be treated by local medical professionals. Camp Belknap will cover the cost of travel insurance with medical protection. Fellows are responsible for the claims process associated with medical care while traveling.
